OUR ANNUAL EXHIBIT OF SPRING SILKS BEGINS WEDNESDAY.

It is safe to say Maysville has never had so charming and authentic an exhibit of spring silks as we will present.

We wish to emphasize we are not offering "Bargain Silks" in the sense of old patterns or unpopular weaves. We will present exactly what progressive women demand—the best weaves imported and domestic in a full range of stylish colors.

Messaline, changeable taffeta and charmeuse, pongee, foulard, serge, poplin, marquisette, tub silk, satin meteor and crepe are what you will find. What you will not find is a desirable weave or color missing.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S party platform would have as many startling and unique features as a first class Sunday newspaper.

GRANT was a receptive candidate for a third term; but GRANT betrayed no friend, GRANT sought to destroy no Republican administration, GRANT perverted no Republican principles, GRANT made no attempt to climb back to power over the ruins of his party. Mr. Roosevelt is a unique figure in American politics. Even Aaron Burr refused to wreck the Democratic party in order to prevent Jefferson's election.—New York World.

New York Sun.

THE striking portrait in words we put for a certain reason within quotation marks:

"TAFT, the most brilliant graduate of his year at Yale, the youngest Yale man upon whom Yale ever conferred a degree of doctor of laws; a man who, having won high position at the bar and then served as Solicitor-General at Washington, was appointed to the United States bench.

"He was then asked to sacrifice himself, to give up his position in order to go to the other side of the world to take up an infinitely dangerous problem and do his best to solve it. He has done his best. He came back here the other day. The man has always had the honorable ambition to get upon the Supreme Court bench, and when he was back here a few months ago, and there was a question of vacancy arising, I said to him:

"Governor, I think I ought to tell you that if a vacancy comes in the Supreme Court, (which I knew would put him for life in a position which he would especially like to have) 'I do not see how I could possibly give it to you, for I need you where you are.'

"He said to me:

"Mr. President, it has always been my ambition to be in the Supreme Court, but if you should offer me a justiceship now and at the same time Congress should take away entirely my salary as Governor, I should go straight back to the Philippines, nevertheless; for those people need me and expect me back, and believe I will not desert them.'

"He has gone back; gone back as a strong friend among weaker friends to help that people upward along the difficult path of self-government. He has gone to do his part—and a great part—in making the American name a symbol of honor and good faith in the Philippines islands; to govern with justice and with that firmness, that absence of weakness which is only another side of justice. He has gone back to do all that, because it is his duty as he sees it.

"We are to be congratulated, we Americans, that we have a fellow American like TAFT."

The foregoing admirable tribute to President TAFT's character strength and patriotism, with its incidental revelation of a case of self-sacrifice to duty that was genuine and not fictitious or a mere play in a game of personal politics, is not here presented as an editorial article of the Sun's. It is taken, without change, from THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S address at the Harvard commencement dinner of June

A political paranoiac is somebody who threatens to paralyze your campaign. If he does not do much harm he is a neurotic.—Charleston News and Courier.

Theodore Roosevelt has placed himself in a position to become the laughing stock of the country, for we do not believe that he has the least bit of show of receiving the nomination at the hands of the Republican party. He has been urged to take this step by a lot of sore heads and disappointed office seekers. We don't believe he could be elected should he receive the nomination at the hands of his party. Mr. TAFT has made a good president and if he cannot be re-elected, no other Republican can, is the way we look at it.—Ripley Bee.

GEORGE WASHINGTON was brave because he had red hair, says the Rev. FRANK W. GUNSAULUS.

Excellent reasoning in faith.

Red-Headed.

NAPOLEON was brave because he had black hair. RICHARD I. of NELSON had the fighting blue eye and somebody else had the fighting black eye, and tigers are noted for their fighting yellow eyes.

But to get back to the starting point, what would have become of us if General WASHINGTON had not had red hair—that is, if he did have it?—Kansas City Times.

"My Hat Is In The Ring."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The thing to do is to locate a dictagraph under Colonel ROOSEVELT'S hat.

St. Louis Republic: He said: "My hat is in the ring." The fact is that the ring and the wheels are in his head.

Chicago Tribune: Is the brim of that hat in the ring pinned up on the side?

Baltimore Sun: "T. R." is waiting for somebody to pick up that hat.

Memphis Commercial-Appeal: It would be interesting to know what the Republican party will do with the Colonel's hat?

Des Moines Capital: The hat may be in the ring, but supposing it should become a cocked hat.

Rochester Union and Advertiser: "My hat in the ring." A large portion of our citizenry will take pleasure in jumping on said hat with both feet.

Atlanta Constitution: There's big limelight for the man who hops into the ring and says: "Here's your hat, Colonel."

Pointed Paragaphs.

PROMINENT PEOPLE

WILL LEAD FIGHT FOR TAFT

Selection of Representative William B. McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, to lead the fight for delegates for President Taft to the Republican national convention at Chicago, is hailed as a drawing taut of the administration lines in an out and out contest between President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. McKinley has hitherto been recognized as a standpatter of the Joseph G. Cannon type. The Taft men assert that Cannonism is dead and that the McKinley appointment is a recognition of the fact that the standpatters have now aligned themselves with the president, a middle of the road progressive Republican, as against the more radical progressives represented by Theodore Roosevelt and Senators La Follette and Cummins.

Mr. McKinley was selected to lead the Taft fight on the suggestion of Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts. The selection of Congressman McKinley to manage President Taft's campaign for re-election will make Illinois the center of the Roosevelt-Taft struggle.

McKinley lives in Champaign, Ill., and will take a personal pride in delivering his own state to Taft.

He is one of the best-known Republicans in Illinois. As head of the McKinley syndicate, which controls the interurban roads of the state, he has employees by the hundreds in the larger cities.

Representative McKinley has been chairman of the Republican congressional committee two terms and has just been elected to a third.

MAYOR QUALIFIES AS A COOK

Descendants of Mayor Carter Harrison will be able to boast reminiscently of the "biscuits father used to make" and no one shall say they may—for his honor the mayor is a culinary expert. He does not have to prove it; he admits it himself.

Mayor Harrison's skill with the skillet runs through a wide repertory from boiled eggs to refector oven biscuits—in fact, there is no end to this man's cleverness until he essays jelly, then he meets the fate of all overly ambitious persons, disaster. Mrs. Harrison is responsible for the statement that the mayoral jelly is not all that could be desired.

The question as to Mayor Harrison's qualifications as a cook arose the other day during a lull in the city hall routine in which Mayor Gaynor's unhappy experience in criticizing the cooking in New York's public schools was under discussion. The question of the cooking teachers of the metropolitan schools as to "what could any mere man know about cooking?" brought forth the mayoral fire, and with it the mayoral statement as to the mayoral ability.

"I have cooked for 20 years on hunting expeditions, and I think I can get away with it in great style. My biscuits are great. I have made them in a refector oven in camp, and any one who can make biscuits in such an oven is all right."

Later Mrs. Harrison, the official Harrison cook, and the maid in the Harrison household all corroborated the mayor's official edict as to his ability with the pots and pans and gas range, but said he was "not there" when it came to making jelly.

"DRUMMER BOY" TO RETIRE

A bill was introduced recently in the lower house of Congress by Mr. Ashworth of Ohio to retire with the rank of major general three of the best-known officers in the United States army. In the memorandum attached to the bill it is stated that "these three men, with a single exception, form the last remnant of that army of a million and a half men who fought for the preservation of the Union."

The exception referred to is Maj. Daniel W. Arnold of the quartermaster's department, who also retires by age limit next summer. However, he does not figure in the bill because of the fact that it was not until 36 years after Appomattox that he came into the army as an officer from civil life.

The three whose names are mentioned in Congressman Ashworth's bill and the combined total of whose services in the army add up to more than 150 years are Brig. Gen. Daniel H. Brush, commanding the department of California; Col. James N. Allison of Governors Island, and Col. John I. Clem, now on duty in Chicago. Colonel Clem is affectionately known to his comrades of the service as "Johnny Clem, drummer boy of Chickamauga."

Colonel Clem is not a West Pointer. He had a chance, but became a commissioned officer about the same time as did Colonel Allison and General Brush.

NO "400" IN NEW YORK CITY

The question whether the visit of the duke and duchess of Connaught and their daughter, the Princess Patricia, will give social leaders a long-sought opportunity to decide who's who was put to Frederick Townsend Martin. He shook his head so decidedly that his mustache-ends vibrated.

"Not at all," he said, "the day of that necessity is long past. If it ever existed, it died with Ward McAllister. New York is too enormous for its society to be anything more than a network of cliques. The time was, years ago, when there were not more than a few hundred families of great wealth and cultivation here, that they all tried to stay together—to make a social unit. Now it is different. There is no '400' in New York today. It is a collection of one-hundreds or less, usually less."

"Neither Mrs. Mills nor Mrs. Reid, or, for that matter, any social leader, could entertain hundreds of persons at one time in the space at her disposal. New York houses are not big enough, and 'crushes' are no longer fashionable."

"Social today is on a friendship basis. It has passed the struggling stage. One can afford to indulge in the comfort of friendship gatherings."

On Marriage

In marriage he who hesitates is—blessed. If Cupid is blind, Hymen has 10,000 peeled eyes.

Between two evils, it is better to wed a talkative lobster than a self-satisfied clam.

After marriage, what one knows that one should not, one ceases to know. This is wisdom.

The husband of a popular celebrity should be forgiven much—for he's very lonely.

A man is as great a fool as a clever woman thinks it worth while to make him.

Masterful men are finally mastered because they fail to measure the staying power of women.

Take no thought as to whom you shall marry. Marry whom you please and you will discover that you have somebody else.

THE HOUSTON FIRE

Maysville Man Eye Witness to the Four Million Dollar Blaze

HOUSTON, TEXAS, February 28th, 1912.

Dear Ledger: Some inquiries have been made relative to loss, if any, to my family by the great fire. Really there was none. The firm of which my son is a member had 73 bales of cotton burned on the 21st. On the 23d every cent was paid. No adjuster came to investigate. The agent came and inquired what loss had been sustained and without delay gave a check for the money. The actual loss by fire was about $4,000,000, mostly in cotton. Almost the whole was covered by insurance. The loss to many poor people whose houses were burned is almost total, as they were not insured.

The weather is simply perfect. One day with a window up at six in the morning, the thermometer was 70. At 6 in the afternoon it was still 70, not having changed a degree in the 12 hours. No fire in the room. Leaves are appearing on the forest trees. Flowers and fruit trees are in bloom. There has not been a flake of snow this winter.

UNSELFISHNESS OF MEADE

Little Incident That Occurred on Second Day at Gettysburg Leaves Impression.

"I think that the hardest day I ever experienced during my entire service in the civil war was the second day at Gettysburg." I was once told by the late Gen. George H. Sharpe, who was a member of General Meade's staff at the time of that decisive struggle, says a writer in an exchange. "We were kept from daylight until darkness, and were all over that extensive battlefield, taking General Meade's directions to the various army corps. But of the stirring and awful sights that I beheld that day none comes to me more vividly than an unchronicled little scene that occurred when the fighting was over for the day.

He Returned My Salute, But Said Nothing.

"In the evening, just after dark, we of the staff came struggling in one after another to General Meade's headquarters, a plain little farmhouse. When I entered the room the general was seated at a table, with his chin resting in his hand, and evidently deep in thought. He returned my salute, but said nothing.

"In a few minutes another of the staff came in, then another and so on until all were present. We were all covered with dust, and my face felt as though it had a thick incrustation of mud on it.

"Presently the servant came in and spread upon the table a few crackers or hardtack, some pieces of bacon, and, if I recollect, a little fruit—perhaps they were cherries, although where he could have got them I do not know.

General Meade looked smilingly, although it was rather a dry smile, at our humble repast. Then, doubtless realizing how worn out we all were, he said: 'This is one of the occasions when I think a man is justified in taking a drink of whisky.'

"General Meade was himself a very abstemious man, rarely drinking any spirituous liquor, and the same was true of every member of the staff.

"I will see if there is any whisky here," he added. Again he spoke to the servant, who, a moment or two later, brought in a bottle of whisky and set it upon the table.

"General Meade glanced casually at the bottle.

"General Sharpe," he said, 'won't you take a glass of whisky? I think it will do you good.'

"I took up the bottle and a tumbler, although I never knew how that tumbler got upon the table at that time. Without pouring out any whisky, I said to General Meade: 'General, I think you ought to take a drink. You need it more than any of us.'

"General Meade, without taking the bottle, looked at it, and in the dim light of the two candles that were on the table, was able to see exactly how much whisky it contained. There was not enough for one moderate drink.

"The general again glanced casually at the bottle. 'No,' he said, 'I don't think I care for any whisky. I would like a cup of coffee.'

"Then he urged one of the staff to take a drink, but he, also having discovered by this time that there was only one drink in the bottle, shook his head and passed the bottle along. In similar fashion the whisky was refused by each member of the staff, and in the middle of the table the bottle stood, with its scanty contents untouched while we ate our hardtack and bacon.

"To me that bottle has always told a perfect story of the devotion and unselfishness of the commanding officer and the members of his staff. I don't remember any incident of the war that more impressed me with the real unselfishness which desperate experiences develop in a true military man than this renunciation of the drink by General Meade and his staff under conditions that would have warranted even a teetotaler in foregoing his pledge."

A Very Strange Find

Mt. Olivet Advance.

Some of our tobacco people who visited Maysville last week tell of a strange find near the warehouse.

A load of rubbish was thrown on the dump and a portion brought, it was claimed, from the Cohen shoe house is said to have contained a tin box, in which was found the nice little sum of $47.

Several persons saw the driver open the box and count out the amount of his lucky pick-up.

UNIQUE FISHING ON LAKE

Sitting By a Nice, Warm Fire and Catching Twelve Pounds

Lakeside (O.) Courier

Until Wednesday's storm put a stop to the sport, fishermen in this section were enjoying the finest fishing ever offered by frozen Lake Erie. More than half a hundred fishing shanties have been in use on the ice and many large catches have been made.

To those not familiar with the customs of those living on the lake this means of fishing by the use of shanties will seem very unique. The shanties are built light and drawn to the desired spots on the ice, as one would draw a sled. A hole is cut in the ice and the shanty placed over it; here the fisherman sits all day by a nice warm stove, attending to his lines as the fish bite.

One large catch made by four islanders Friday numbered 305 pickerel ranging from ten to twelve pounds each. The fish bring fancy prices in the wholesale market and many are finding it profitable sport.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. This is no way of effecting a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

I honestly believe that I have the best constipation treatment ever devised. My faith in it is so strong that I sell it not on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most healthy person.

They come in three sizes packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at my store—The Rexall Store. Thos. J. Chenoweth, corner of Third and Sutton streets.

WINS $1,500

J. D. Gay Kentucky Shootist Cleans Up Platter

PARIS, KY., March 1st.—The closing event in the series of the three days' shoot at the grounds of the Hill Top Gun Club, witnessed the third victory of Mr. J. D. Gay of Pine Grove, Clark county, against Mr. Harry Kahler of Philadelphia, the result being 93 pigeons killed by the Kentuckian and 80 by Mr. Kahler.

The scores for the other days were 84 to 81 the first day, and 92 to 81 the second day. The same conditions obtained each day; both as to rules and weather, the latter being cold, windy and disagreeable on each occasion.

The crowd was very enthusiastic, and Mr. Gay is being congratulated upon winning the handsome purse of $1,500. The tournament has added very materially to the reputation of the Hill Top Gun Club, on the farm of Mr. Alford Clay.

DECIDE YOURSELF

Read the statements of Maysville's citizens. And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:

M. C. Chisholm, 317 East Second street Maysville, Ky., says:

"The cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected in my case some years ago has been permanent, and the public testimonial I gave in their praise still holds good. I was bothered a great deal by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions, this being especially annoying at night, when I was obliged to arise several times. Having my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and had only taken them a short time before I noticed a marked improvement. They soon cured me, and I have since learned of several other cases where Doan's Kidney Pills have been used with good results."

SOME LITIGATION

Two Important Suits Filed in the Mason Circuit Court

Saturday Frank H. Clark filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court against the estate of Lida C. Rogers, deceased, in which J. Clark Rogers, James Rogers, Florence Rogers, Lida C. Rogers and her husband, D. E. Rogers, are defendants.

Mr. Clark is suing for one-fourth of $200,000, claiming amount due him under agreement entered into by said Lida C. Rogers and Frank H. Clark, dated August 1st, 1892, and continued until April 24th, 1911. Wherefore, plaintiff prays that the affairs of said business carried on by said Clark and Lida C. Rogers, during her lifetime, and continuous after her death by plaintiff and defendants as her Administrator and heirs at law, be wound up and settled, and the amount coming to each respectively be ascertained and paid to them out of the assets on hand. He prays for general and all proper relief.

During the period above mentioned, nineteen years, Mr. Clark was Manager of the James H. Rogers & Co.'s distillery and business.

Another important suit filed Saturday was that of George C. Parry, James N. Kirk and J. P. Marshall against the Board of Education of Mason county, in which they seek to restrain and prevent said Board from further expending county money in conducting the Maylick High School, and that the contract heretofore existing with the Maysville High School be maintained. Wherefore, the premises considered, plaintiffs pray that the defendant be enjoined from expending any portion of this school money derived from taxes levied by the Mason Fiscal Court for the ensuing school year 1912-13 in supporting or maintaining said Maylick High School, unless, and until, they shall have first established a County High School at the county seat of Mason county as required by sub-section 8 of section 4426-a, Kentucky Statutes. They pray for costs herein and for all proper relief.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound in your ears, which is usually attended by dizziness, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, The. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

MOTHER WAS WORRIED

Because Young Daughter Coughed So Much—What She Did

Just think how anxious Mrs. William Archer of Long Branch, N. J., must have been about her 14-year-old daughter. She says: "She was very thin, had a bad cough, was nervous and did not sleep well. Vinol has helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing once, in fact her cough is gone. Her appetite is greatly improved and she has gained weight. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

Nothing can possibly be more important than the health of children and that is why we earnestly advise the use of Vinol in all cases where a child is weak, pale, run down, has a cough and poor appetite. We have seen it make so many children strong and rosy that we believe in it. Children take Vinol eagerly because it tastes good and it puts new strength into their little bodies. We guarantee Vinol to give perfect satisfaction and give your money back if it does not. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

Maysville As a Market

Mt. Olivet Advance.

Oscar Highlander, who grew a crop of tobacco in Platte county, Mo., the past few years, and one of his neighbors, attempted to sell in the home market, but succeeded in obtaining an offer of only 8 cents; while his friend did not get so high a bid. They decided at last to ship to Kentucky. At Cincinnati the shipments became separated, Highlander's going to Lexington and the other to Maysville. The latter brought the net sum of $12.35 per hundred, while the one in Lexington was sold at $8.50.

This speaks well for the Maysville market, it being regarded as extra good price for Missouri tobacco.

LANG DIVORCED

Civil War Veteran Secures Divorce From Virginia Widow

At Manchester, O., Judge Corn gave a decision in a divorce case that is of more than local interest. More than a year ago D. L. Lang, a veteran of the Civil War, who had about $12,000, according to his own testimony, met Mrs. L. K. Crouch, 44, a Virginia widow, on the veranda of a Manchester hotel. After a brief acquaintance they were married in Cincinnati.

He complained on the wedding trip about her extravagant habits, especially as to the purchase of a $450 bonnet. When they returned to Manchester, he testified, he was forced from their room by her at the point of a revolver. All of this she denied while testifying as a witness.

While sitting next to the trial judge at the dinner table she fainted and a physician was called.

The Court allowed the divorce asked for by the plaintiff, but stated that he pay Court costs, attorney fees for both sides and pay the defendant $250 as expense money. She left for her Virginia home.
